

About the Programme

The main objective of this Programme is to provide teaching faculty (in the field of Computer Science and Information Technology) with a deep insight in to the field of mobile application programming and its development. The Programme will highlight the design and implementation of Android applications for mobile devices. Participants will be able to develop an app from scratch (assuming basic knowledge of Java), learning to set up Android Studio, and working with creation of simple user interfaces to make mobile apps run smoothly. As the Android operating system caters to a wider audience presently, the course shall be helpful for all those who are looking forward to enhancing their knowledge and skill set for Android OS & other programming applications related with mobile OS.

Who Should Attend

This Programme is designed for the faculty members of various Engineering institutes of Punjab and nearby states of the country. Participants will be given certificate jointly by ISTE and AICTE.

Registration

There is no registration fee for the programme. Participant’s registration will be confirmed on first come first serve basis. All the participants will be given tea, lunch & programme material.
